About Me

I'm Lynn, the rogue pharmacist. I help open-minded people who are frustrated with their chronic health problems and who are tired of wasting time and money on solutions that don't work. I work with clients who have tried everything, from all different kinds of medication to obscure "trendy" protocols and supplements, and who are still suffering with unresolved health problems.

With 40+ years in the pharmacy industry and 20+ years in functional medicine, I offer a holistic, all-natural commonsense approach to finding the root cause of your problem and resolving your health issues once and for all.
